POLICY STATEMENT

The principles guiding our Protecting and Safeguarding Vulnerable Adults policy reflect those of The Care Act 2014 (this replaces the “No Secrets” guidance)

The following 6 key principles will underpin all our work to safeguard adults (Care Act 2014)

Empowerment – People being supported and encouraged to make their own decisions and informed consent.

Prevention – It is better to take action before harm occurs.

Proportionality – The least intrusive response appropriate to the risk presented.

Protection – Support and representation for those in greatest need.

Partnership – Local solutions through services working with their communities. Communities have a part to play in preventing, detecting and reporting neglect and Abuse.

Accountability – Accountability and transparency in delivering safeguarding.

We recognise that adult safeguarding arrangements are there to protect individuals, we all have different preferences, histories, circumstances and life-styles, and so it is unhelpful to prescribe a process that must be followed whenever a concern is raised. (The Care Act 14.14). The response to safeguarding concerns must be personal to the individual. Making safeguarding personal means it should be person-led and outcome-focused. It engages the person in a conversation about how best to respond to their safeguarding situation in a way that enhances involvement, choice and control as well as improving quality of life, wellbeing and safety. (The Care Act 2014)

Safeguarding is the responsibility of everyone including statutory, independent and voluntary agencies as well as every citizen. We will work together to prevent and minimise abuse.

DEFINITIONS

Vulnerable Adult - The safeguarding duty applies to any adult who:

- has needs for care and support (whether or not the local authority is meeting any of those needs), and;
- is experiencing, or is at risk of, abuse or neglect, and;
- as a result of those care and support needs are unable to protect themselves from either the risk of, or the experience of abuse or neglect. (The Care Act 2014)

Staff need to be vigilant about adult safeguarding in all walks of life (The Care Act 2014). If the person you are concerned about is aged under the age of 18 you should refer to Clifton

Colleges separate Safeguarding and Protecting Children Policy which is part of Clifton Colleges wider commitment to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people.

Abuse

Abuse is the violation of an individual's human and civil rights by any other person or Persons it may be something that is done to the person or something not done when it should have been it can be unintentional, but if a vulnerable adult is harmed this must be reported.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

The aims of adult safeguarding are to:

- stop abuse or neglect wherever possible;
- prevent harm and reduce the risk of abuse or neglect to adults with care and support needs;
- safeguard adults in a way that supports them in making choices and having control about how they want to live;
- promote an approach that concentrates on improving life for the adults concerned;
- raise public awareness so that communities as a whole, alongside professionals, play their part in preventing, identifying and responding to abuse and neglect;
- provide information and support in accessible ways to help people understand the different types of abuse, how to stay safe and what to do to raise a concern about the safety or well-being of an adult, and;
- address what has caused the abuse or neglect. (The Care Act 2014)

The understanding and implementation by staff of these policies and procedures are essential as part of Clifton College's duty to safeguard adults.

MONITOR AND REVIEW

The College's DSL will ensure that the procedures set out in this policy and the implementation of these procedures are updated and reviewed regularly, working with the Council as necessary and seeking contributions from staff.

The DSL will update the Senior Leadership Team regularly on the operation of the College's safeguarding arrangements. Any safeguarding incidents at the College will be followed by a review of these procedures by the DSL and a report made to the Council.

Where an incident involves a member of staff, the Local Authority Designated Officer may be asked to assist in this review to determine whether any improvements can be made to the College's procedures. Any deficiencies or weaknesses identified in regard to safeguarding arrangements at any time will be remedied without delay.

The Council will undertake an annual review of this policy and the College's safeguarding procedures, including an update and review of the effectiveness of procedures and their implementation and the effectiveness of inter-agency working.

The DSL will work with the Chair of the Safeguarding and Welfare Committee (SWC), preparing a written report commissioned by the Council. The written report should address how the College ensures that this policy is kept up to date; staff training on safeguarding; referral information; issues and themes which may have emerged in the College and how these have been handled; and the contribution the College is making to multi-agency working in individual cases or local discussions on safeguarding matters. The Council should also consider independent corroboration, such as:

- inspection of records or feedback from external agencies including the Designated Officer;
- reports of ISI inspections;

IN PRACTICE

We will always involve the adult from the beginning of the enquiry unless there are exceptional circumstances that increase the risk of abuse. Involvement may be supported by an independent advocate if the adult has substantial difficulty in being involved and where there is no other suitable person to represent and support them (appointed by the local authority). Where an independent advocate is appointed we will work closely with them to ensure they are able to carry out their duties.

Where an adult lacks capacity to make decisions about their safeguarding plans, a range of options should be identified, shared and discussed with the adult to enable them to remain in as much in control of their life as possible. Wherever possible, the adult should be supported to recognise risks and to manage them.

Clifton College believes that all people - adults and children - are entitled to a life without exploitation or abuse.

In all our work Clifton College will take into consideration the sensitive issues that may arise when working with people of differing age, race, religion, language, gender identity, culture, sexual orientation, physical and mental abilities.

Clifton College commit fully to:

- Following all principles and guidance set out by Keeping Adults Safe Delivery Group (part of Keeping Bristol Safe Partnership) and South Gloucestershire Safeguarding Adults Board and subsequent reviews and also be involved where possible in assisting in the development of these principles.
- pro-actively safeguarding adults so that the need for action to protect adults from abuse is reduced.
- ensuring that the occurrence of abuse is prevented, and where it does occur; ensuring, where possible, that it is not allowed to continue and that an adult safeguarding referral is made.

- ensuring that all Staff, paid or unpaid, are conversant with Clifton College's policies and procedures for safeguarding adults

- consulting with and referring to Social Care, and/or in an emergency the Police where concerns about possible abuse arise.
- working with partner agencies to safeguard adults and giving every assistance to the local authority and police in carrying out their statutory duties.

STAFF CONDUCT

All staff must abide at all times by Clifton College's Code of Conduct.

DEFINITIONS OF HARM AND ABUSE

This is not intended to be an exhaustive list, but an illustrative guide as to the sort of behaviour which could give rise to a safeguarding concern. (Care Act 14.16). What constitutes abuse or neglect can take many forms and the circumstances of the individual case should always be considered.

Types of abuse include:

Physical abuse – including assault, hitting, slapping, pushing, misuse of medication, restraint or inappropriate physical sanctions.

Domestic abuse – including psychological, physical, sexual, financial, emotional abuse; so called 'honour' based violence.

Sexual abuse – including rape, indecent exposure, sexual harassment, inappropriate looking or touching, sexual teasing or innuendo, sexual photography, subjection to pornography or witnessing sexual acts, indecent exposure and sexual assault or sexual acts to which the adult has not consented or was pressured into consenting.

Psychological abuse – including emotional abuse, threats of harm or abandonment, deprivation of contact, humiliation, blaming, controlling, intimidation, coercion, harassment, Verbal abuse, cyber bullying, isolation or unreasonable and unjustified withdrawal of services or supportive networks.

Financial or material abuse – including theft, fraud, internet scamming, coercion in relation to an adult’s financial affairs or arrangements, including in connection with wills, property, inheritance or financial transactions, or the misuse or misappropriation of property, possessions or benefits.

Modern slavery – encompasses slavery, human trafficking, forced labour and domestic servitude. Traffickers and slave masters use whatever means they have at their disposal to coerce, deceive and force individuals into a life of abuse, servitude and inhumane treatment.

Discriminatory abuse – including forms of harassment, slurs or similar treatment; because of race, gender and gender identity, age, disability, sexual orientation or religion.

Organisational abuse – including neglect and poor care practice within an institution or specific care setting such as a hospital or care home, for example, or in relation to care provided in one’s own home. This may range from one off incidents to on-going ill treatment.

It can be through neglect or poor professional practice as a result of the structure, policies, processes and practices within an organisation.

Neglect and acts of omission – including ignoring medical, emotional or physical care needs, failure to provide access to appropriate health, care and support or educational services, the withholding of the necessities of life, such as medication, adequate nutrition and heating

Self-neglect – This covers a wide range of behaviour neglecting to care for one’s personal hygiene, health or surroundings and includes behaviour such as hoarding. (Care Act 14.17)

If any of the above are perpetrated by someone who is or has been an intimate partner or family member of the vulnerable person the abuse can also be seen as Domestic Abuse.

A hate crime is any criminal offence that is motivated by hostility or prejudice based upon the victim’s disability, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, transgender identity. Any safeguarding concern that reflects should be reported to the local Police.

WHO ABUSES AND NEGLECTS ADULTS

Anyone can carry out abuse or neglect, including:

- spouses/partners;
- other family members;
- neighbours;
- friends;
- local residents;
- acquaintances;
- local residents;
- people who deliberately exploit adults they perceive as vulnerable to abuser;
- paid staff or professionals, and;
- volunteers and strangers. (Care Act 14.27)

Abuse can happen anywhere, for example, in someone's own home, in a public place, in hospital, in a care home or in college. It can take place when an adult lives alone or with others. (14.28)

Neglect can be intentional or unintentional and it is important to understand that being unintentional does not mean it is not abusive. There can be abuse in any relationship, often occurring where the person abusing is in a more powerful position than the person being abused. The abuser may be more able than the person being abused, or the abused person may be dependent on the abuser in some way.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

Remember that whilst hearing allegations of abuse and reporting your concerns is not always easy it is your duty to report your concerns in line with these procedures, and it may be considered a disciplinary offence not to do so.

IMMEDIATE PROTECTIVE ACTION

Ensure that the person subject to alleged abuse is safe and supported before proceeding with any other action.

Ensure they receive any medical attention required. In certain circumstances it will be necessary to take immediate action to protect the vulnerable adult by calling the police and/or by suspending a member of staff.

WHEN AND HOW TO CONTACT THE POLICE

Direct calls to the police should be reserved for incidents of assault and violence where an element of urgency applies, in which case you should call (9)999 call.

If you believe a crime has been committed call the police on 0845 456 7000. Make a note of the log or "STORM" number you are given and include it in any adult safeguarding referral.

PRESERVING EVIDENCE

Be aware that in certain situations medical, or other evidence will be needed. You may need to lock rooms, or ensure that equipment and documents are secured appropriately so that evidence cannot be tampered with. If there has been physical or sexual assault you should not clear up, move things, wash people, things, bedding or clothing before you report the incident or taken the advice of the police.

Remember to:

- stay calm and try not to show if you are shocked.
- listen carefully and be sympathetic, you don't need to press the person for lots of detail, indeed taking a full written statement from the person at this point could be too stressful and jeopardise any future police investigation.
- tell the person they have done the right thing in telling you, and that the abuse is not their fault.
- tell the person that you are treating what they said seriously and that you will be talking to your manager about it.
- tell them that you will do your best to support them.
- clarify with them the nature of the abuse and establish if it needs an urgent response. If so, keep them as calm as possible until the police arrive.
- make sure that everything you do keeps the person safe for now.
- if you contact or question the alleged abuser you may be placing the vulnerable adult at risk.
- do keep to information sharing protocols, only share the person's information with the people who need to know, observe the confidentiality of all concerned at all times.

It may be that the person you are seeking to protect asks you not to do anything at all, although they say they are being abused. Whilst respecting this it is important that you MUST share it with your manager, but assure them that you are listening to them and will let your manager know that they want nothing more to happen.

If the person is experiencing life threatening abuse, or abuse likely to lead to serious mental or physical harm, or a child or other vulnerable adult is also at risk, the vulnerable person's wishes for the matter not to be reported may be overridden.

IF A CHILD IS BEING HARMED OR IS AT RISK OF HARM

The matter must be reported immediately to Children and Young People's Services by telephoning the local area office

Follow our Safeguarding and Protecting Children Policy and Procedures and refer to the South West Child Protection Procedures for further information on what to do.

REPORTING YOUR CONCERNS

If you urgently need to make a safeguarding referral speak to your Line Manager, Duty Manager or, if unavailable, a Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Whatever the source of the information it must be treated seriously, checked, recorded and shared with your manager. All care agencies and professions share equally the responsibility for the identification of abuse, and for ensuring appropriate action is taken.

Please also refer to the Safeguarding and Protecting Children Policy.

HOW TO REPORT YOUR CONCERNS

When you come to report your allegation you will be expected to give relevant details of the person you seek to protect.

You should complete as much information as possible but do not delay. It is useful to pass on:

- name and date of birth
- circumstances, where they live and with whom
- services they receive and from whom
- who is providing the information
- who was the person suspected or implicated in the abuse
- your concerns, and the reasons for those concerns

If you do not have all this information and the situation is urgent do not delay, report it first. There should be no delay in reporting serious concerns.

If you are quoting someone else then be sure this is clear when reporting, it is important that the initial referral is clear, so try to use the person's own words.

Ensure all records are signed and dated.

The information will be treated in the strictest confidence within the limits of the law, which requires that the police are informed where there is serious risk to life, or information about a serious crime is discovered.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

A Safeguarding Adults referral will be given high priority. It indicates that there is a risk to an individual's physical, emotional, or mental wellbeing and is considered a critical or substantial risk to independence under section 42 of the Care Act eligibility criteria.

The Local Authority has the duty to coordinate the interagency response to safeguarding adults referrals, and will consult with the Care Quality Commission (CQC), the Police, and other relevant agencies where this is appropriate.

If an investigation is indicated they may convene a strategy discussion to decide the best way to investigate the allegation(s). A team manager or someone of equivalent seniority will be the coordinating manager responsible for ensuring that the allegation is dealt with properly.

ALLEGATIONS REGARDING STAFF

Refer to the Code of Conduct as well as the Safeguarding and Protecting Children Policy.

KEEPING PEOPLE INFORMED

Where an adult has disclosed information about abuse or the risk of abuse, the Clifton College staff member should ensure, as far as they are able to, that the person who has made the disclosure is kept informed about what will happen next. This will help to reassure them about what to expect.

All staff who continue to have a role should keep themselves and other professionals involved and informed throughout.
